

Gear4music GmbH - E-Commerce / Product Data

Gear4music is one of Europe's leading retailers of musical instruments, music technology and professional audio equipment. Operating across multiple European markets, we serve customers through local websites and teams in the UK, Germany, Ireland, Spain and Sweden.

Werkstudent Product Data Analyst (m/w/d) - Berlin

€15.00 gross per hour | 20 hours per week | English-speaking role | Berlin-Friedrichshain

City: Berlin; Starting date (earliest): At the earliest possible; Duration: 6 months;
Remuneration: €15.00 gross per hour; Closing date: 24/07/26

Tasks

Identifying and matching products across multiple platforms
Reviewing product information for accuracy, completeness, and consistency
Investigating and correcting incorrect product associations

Requirements

Currently enrolled at a university or higher education institution
Excellent written and spoken English
German language skills are advantageous but not essential
Interest in musical instruments and music technology, with the ability to analyse and compare technical product specifications
Strong attention to detail and accuracy
Confident working with spreadsheets and digital tools
Ability to work independently in a structured and reliable manner

This role could be particularly suitable for students studying music, music technology, business, marketing, information systems, data-related disciplines, or similar subjects. However, applications from all fields of study are welcome.

What we offer

€15.00 gross per hour
20 hours per week with student-friendly scheduling
Working days and hours can be arranged around your university timetable, within our office hours (Monday to Friday, 9:00am-6:00pm)
Initial 6-month fixed-term contract with the possibility of extension
Practical experience within an international e-commerce business
Collaboration with colleagues across multiple European countries
Attractive employee discounts on our product range
Fully on-site role based in our office in the heart of Berlin's Boxhagener Kiez
Friendly and international working environment

Start date: Immediate

Application

Please send your CV to sam.galloway@gear4music.com together with a few sentences explaining your interest in the role and why you would be a good fit.

We look forward to hearing from you.

More information at <https://stellenticket.de/204725/HTWB/>
Offer visible until 24/07/26

