Technische Universität Berlin

Research Assistant - salary grade E13 TV-L Berliner Hochschulen - 1st qualification period (PhD candidate)

part-time employment may be possible

Faculty VI - Planning Building Environment, Institute of Architecture / Architecture Theory
Reference number: VI-401/25 (starting at the earliest possible / for 5 years / closing date for applications 24/10/25)

About us:

Architectural theory sees itself as a fundamental science, with the scientific interest of the field lying in critical theory of architecture. The scientific approach is characterised by the question of the connection between knowledge, architectural design and material practice, which encompasses the systematization and specification of the methodological instruments of architectural theory as a science, the question of the theory of history and the critical reflection of current architectural practice in the context of digital humanities, sustainability, resources and intergenerational justice. A particular focus is placed on the semiotic, perceptual-aesthetic, anthropological, epistemological and scientific-theoretical aspects of architectural theory. The department maintains close research collaborations with universities in Italy, Spain, Japan and Israel.

Your responsibility:

- Collaboration in teaching (BA Sc., MA Sc. and M-ArchT) and research, in the organisation of conferences and preparation of publications.
- Designing, preparing and conducting courses at bachelor's and master's level
- Scientific collaboration and support for ongoing research projects
- Administrative support for visiting professors and lecturers
- Management of the 'isis' e-learning platform for own courses and courses of visiting professors and lecturers
- Marking of exams (compulsory lecture Architecture Theory 1, Bachelor's, and Architectural Theory 11, Master's)
- Planning, preparation, organisation and implementation of events such as book presentations, conferences or symposia, including supervision of technical set-up and catering
- Designing, preparing and implementing the end-of-year exhibition ('IfA-Expo') once a year at the Institute of Architecture
- Supporting public relations work
- Organising and implementing student excursions
- Supervising publications (pre-doc): Preparing a dissertation within the scope of the research focus of the field of architecture theory.

Your profile:

- Successfully completed academic university degree (Master, Diplom or equivalent) in the field of architecture.
- A focus on philosophy and/or humanities is desirable, demonstrated by studies, additional training or other activities such as publications in the field of philosophy.
- Proven experience in an architectural office and/or collaboration in research institutes or projects in the field of theory and history of architecture.
- Study and/or work experience abroad is desirable.
- Foreign language skills: very good written and spoken German and English as well as design skills; the ability to teach in both German and English is required.
