

Technische Universität Dresden - Faculty of Arts, Humanities and Social Science, Institute of Protestant Theology

Die Technische Universität Dresden (TUD) zählt als Exzellenzuniversität zu den leistungsstärksten Forschungseinrichtungen Deutschlands. 1828 gegründet, ist sie heute eine global bezogene, regional verankerte Spitzenuniversität, die innovative Beiträge zur Lösung weltweiter Herausforderungen leisten will. In Forschung und Lehre vereint sie Ingenieur- und Naturwissenschaften mit den Geistes- und Sozialwissenschaften und der Medizin. Diese bundesweit herausragende Vielfalt an Fächern ermöglicht der Universität, die Interdisziplinarität zu fördern und Wissenschaft in die Gesellschaft zu tragen. Die TUD versteht sich als moderne Arbeitgeberin und will allen Beschäftigten in Lehre, Forschung, Technik und Verwaltung attraktive Arbeitsbedingungen bieten und so auch ihre Potenziale fördern, entwickeln und einbinden. Die TUD steht für eine Universitätskultur, die geprägt ist von Weltoffenheit, Wertschätzung, Innovationsfreude und Partizipation. Sie begreift Diversität als kulturelle Selbstverständlichkeit und Qualitätskriterium einer Exzellenzuniversität. Entsprechend begrüßen wir alle Bewerberinnen und Bewerber, die sich mit ihrer Leistung und Persönlichkeit bei uns und mit uns für den Erfolg aller engagieren möchten.

Chair (W3) of Systematic Theology (Protestant) with a Focus on Ethics

At the Faculty of Arts, Humanities and Social Science, the Institute of Protestant Theology invites applications for the Chair (W3) of Systematic Theology (Protestant) with a Focus on Ethics to be filled as of April 1, 2027.

City: Dresden; Starting date (earliest): 01/04/27; Remuneration: W3; Closing date: 17/03/26

Tasks

The chair will represent systematic theology (dogmatics and ethics) in teaching within the degree programs of the Faculty of Arts, Humanities and Social Science and the teacher training programs, in research with a focus on ethics. A special opportunity for collaboration in research and teaching at TUD is the possibility of interdisciplinary cooperation with all subjects in the humanities and social sciences as well as the natural and engineering sciences and medicine. Teaching responsibilities include supervising student theses and dissertations. Other duties of the chair include participation in academic self-administration and in the committees of the Faculty of Arts, Humanities and Social Science and TUD.

Requirements

You (m/f/x) have in-depth knowledge of systematic theology (Protestant) and your research focus is in the field of ethics. Your willingness and ability to build interdisciplinary bridges is an indispensable prerequisite for successful work at the Institute of Protestant Theology. We therefore hope that you will participate in the research networks of TUD and actively collaborate with DRESDEN-concept partners. You demonstrate your qualifications through relevant publications, the development and implementation of positively evaluated courses, success in acquiring third-party funding and commitment to knowledge transfer.

Your active participation in academic self-governance is a given. A reflective working style, cooperative spirit, strategic thinking, sense of responsibility, and motivating leadership of interdisciplinary and diverse teams complete your profile.

The requirements for appointment, the official duties and the administrative status are governed by §§ 59, 69, 71 of the Act on Higher Education Institutions in the Free State of Saxony (SächsHSG) and the Saxon Regulation on Official Duties at Higher Education Institutions (HSDAVO).

What we offer

For questions, please contact the Dean of the Faculty of Arts, Humanities and Social Science, Prof. Dr. Dominik Schrage, email: dekan-phf@tu-dresden.de.

Application

TUD strives to employ more women in academia and research. We therefore expressly encourage women to apply. The University is a certified family-friendly university and offers a Dual Career Service. We welcome applications from candidates with disabilities. If multiple candidates prove to be equally qualified, those with disabilities or with equivalent status pursuant to the German Social Code IX (SGB IX) will receive priority for employment. If you have any questions about these topics, please contact the Equal Opportunities Officer of the Faculty of Arts, Humanities and Social Science (Ms. Caroline Friedrich, phone +49 351 463-37307) or our Representative of Employees with Disabilities (Mr. Roberto Lemmrich, phone +49 351 463-33175).

We look forward to receiving your application by March 17, 2026 (time stamp on the email server or the stamped arrival date of the university central mail service of TUD applies).

How to Apply

Please attach the following documents to your letter of application:

- curriculum vitae in tabular form, synopsis of the academic career
- list of academic publications and overview of research projects with details of third-party funding acquired
- list of courses taught, results of teaching evaluations covering the last three years
- if applicable, enclose supporting documents
- and copies of the certificates of all academic degrees.

We kindly ask you to submit your application by email. Please use the SecureMail Portal of TUD (<https://securemail.tu-dresden.de>) and send your documents in a single PDF document to: bewerbung.phf@tu-dresden.de. If you are applying by regular mail, please also attach your application documents in electronic form (CD or USB thumb drive) and send them to:
