

Technische Universität Dresden - Faculty of Psychology, Institute of Educational and Developmental Psychology, Chair of Psychology of Learning and Instruction

TUD Dresden University of Technology, as a University of Excellence, is one of the leading and most dynamic research institutions in the country. Founded in 1828, today it is a globally oriented, regionally anchored top university as it focuses on the grand challenges of the 21st century. It develops innovative solutions for the world's most pressing issues. In research and academic programs, the university unites the natural and engineering sciences with the humanities, social sciences and medicine. This wide range of disciplines is a special feature, facilitating interdisciplinarity and transfer of science to society. As a modern employer, it offers attractive working conditions to all employees in teaching, research, technology and administration. The goal is to promote and develop their individual abilities while empowering everyone to reach their full potential. TUD embodies a university culture that is characterized by cosmopolitanism, mutual appreciation, thriving innovation and active participation. For TUD diversity is an essential feature and a quality criterion of an excellent university. Accordingly, we welcome all applicants who would like to commit themselves, their achievements and productivity to the success of the whole institution.

Tasks

We are looking for a motivated research assistant to support our research activities within the CeTI Cluster of Excellence (Centre for Tactile Internet with Human-in-the-Loop) at TUD. The position offers the opportunity to gain hands-on experience in psychological research, including the organization of studies, conducting experiments, and supporting dissemination activities, while working in a friendly and collaborative environment.

Tasks:

- preparation of experimental materials (e.g., questionnaires, stimuli)
- organization and scheduling of participants

- conducting laboratory or online experiments
- communication with participants (email coordination)
- data entry, cleaning, and preparation
- support with literature research
- assistance with public outreach (e.g., girls' day)

Requirements

- Bachelor or Master degree in psychology or a related field
- interest in scientific research
- basic knowledge of research methods and statistics
- careful, structured, and reliable working style
- good organizational skills and the ability to coordinate tasks independently
- good command of English and German (written and spoken)
- ability to work independently and as part of a team

Application

We welcome applications from candidates with disabilities. If multiple candidates prove to be equally qualified, those with disabilities or with equivalent status pursuant to the German Social Code IX (SGB IX) will receive priority for employment.

Application: Please submit your detailed application with the usual documents by May 27, 2026 (stamped arrival date of the university central mail service or the time stamp on the email server of TUD applies), preferably via the TUD SecureMail Portal <https://securemail.tu-dresden.de> by sending it as a single pdf file to muege.cavdan_goektepe@tu-dresden.de or to:

TU Dresden, Chair of Psychology of Learning and Instruction, Dr. Müge Çavdan Göktepe, Helmholtzstr. 10, 01069 Dresden, Germany.
