

Anton - E-Learning

ANTON is a free PreK-8 learning platform covering all subjects built on the belief that every child deserves access to quality education. We're headquartered in Berlin and work with schools and students across the U.S. and beyond.

Working Student (f/m/d): Digital Education Content Creator (US English Native Speaker)

Our U.S. team is looking for native English speakers to join us in creating educational content for students learning English in American schools.

City: Berlin; Starting date (earliest): At the earliest possible; Remuneration: Starting at 15€/hour (first year)

Tasks

- Translating existing content into English
- Creating new educational content, especially for English learners within our coding software
- Testing and improvement of current content

Requirements

- Interest in digital education, pedagogy, and alternative learning and teaching concepts
- Native speaker level English skills, especially in writing and grammar
- Creative, dependable, detail-oriented, good at independent work, and meticulous work-ethic
- Good IT skills
- Ideally: experience working with children and/or tutoring
- A minimum of 12 months left in degree, formally enrolled at a German university

What we offer

- A versatile part-time job (starting wage is 15€/hour) and flexible working hours (15-20 hours a week), at the earliest possible date
- Help shape a product that is already helping over 20 million students and teachers to learn more effectively and have more fun while learning
- Work with a young, international team
- Work in a creative working environment in our office in the middle of Kreuzberg (Mehringdamm)

Application

Would you like to get to know us? Write us three sentences explaining why you'd be a good fit for the job. Please attach your CV (as a PDF).

<https://anton.jobs.personio.com/job/2059248#apply>

We would also love to see your ANTON-Pixel-Paint picture (created in the app) as an attachment to your application :-)

More information at <https://stellenticket.de/206666/FUB/>

Offer visible until 03/10/26

